The Electric Cabaret

The all-singing, all-dancing, alternative cabaret is back!

Swing from burlesque to bands to drag to circus-cocooned comedy with the most diverse and experimental folk of the Fringe! Each night hosts a line up as unique as the performers. Every topic from LGBTQ+ experiences, teenagedom, love, loss and how to become a human martini is delivered with glamorous absurdity. A bouncing hub of alternative cabaret, music, spoken word and comedy nestled in a cosy corner of the Fringe.

This year features acts hailing from across the globe with accolades of West End, Broadway, TV, YouTube and local stars. AJ Holmes, a lead in Book Of Mormon as Elder Cunningham on Broadway and West End for five years, he has been a writer on South Park and was a co-creator of A Very Potter Musical. A wonderfully sophisticated composer with a witty twist, he masterfully blends stand up and music.

Alongside AJ is LA-based, sketch comedy trio Business Casual. After tearing up the indie scene for the past two year they make their Edinburgh debut. They've worked for Funny Or Die and Gary Sanchez Productions after performing sold out runs at Lyric Hyperion in LA, Del Close Marathon in NY.

218 Stamptown Newcomer Award winner Roisin Crowley Linton, returns to Edinburgh with her signature blend of aching honest poetry, side-splitting stand-up and intimate storytelling. Linton delivers a show exploring the oddities of working at a youth club by day and being a risqué, comedic burlesque performer at night. A daring look into how hard it is to be sexy and how the kids are alright.

Relaxed, intimate, with a flair for the weird, it's the perfect place to grab a drink at the end of a long day.

Reviews for previous seasons of The Electric Cabaret:

'Wacky, weird and wonderful' A Younger Theatre

'Perfect comedy, an ideal way to start/end the night' ★★★★★ ThreeWeeks

Reviews for featured acts:

For The Laser Kiwi 'Fall-down funny, absolutely top shelf' ★★★★★ Advertiser,
