

Blueleaf Theatre Company That Moment by Dougie Blaxland

Following successful runs in Leeds, Bath and London, That Moment heads to Edinburgh

Struggling actor Alicia is trying to do everything in her power to pursue a career in theatre. When one audition appears to offer Alicia her big break, what she ends up with is Titus, an incontinent doughnut-eating dog. Almost at breaking point, Alicia pauses to reflect on how she got where she is and how the dog could help change her fortunes.

That Moment is a fast-paced, funny yet touching one woman show about the struggle for success in a notoriously competitive industry. It poses the question how far would you go to achieve the dream? Comedy springs from Alicia's skilful portrayal of many of the characters who have featured in her life so far.

Playwright Dougie Blaxland is the most recent winner of The Peggy Ramsey Award (2010, 2013 and 2017) his work has been performed at venues across the UK. Most recently the Professional Cricketer's Association commissioned his work When The Eye Has Gone which toured professional county cricket grounds across the country.

Director Marcus Marsh says: 'That Moment will strike a chord with anyone trying to pursue their chosen career, as it deals with the struggle of coming out of full time education and making a way in the world. As Alicia discovers, we may see our future going one way but life often chooses another.'
